

Just imagine...

your work affects the future of over four million people

APG is one of the world's largest administrators of group pension schemes. With over 4,000 colleagues, we are responsible for a pension capital of approximately 240 billion euros (as at 31 December 2009). APG is thus one of the world's largest administrators of pension capital. APG carries out the administration, asset management and communication for over four million pension participants. We also provide assistance to pension funds in determining their strategy. In addition, we develop financial products as a supplement to existing pension schemes. APG has offices in Heerlen (head office), Amsterdam, New York and Hong Kong.

Develop yourself

Professionals feel at home in the international working environment of APG. Working at APG means working in an environment that is geared towards development. We continuously translate APG's objectives into the competencies of employees in the field of conduct, knowledge and skills. APG is an organisation with a unique expertise in the pension field. The world of pensions is currently in a state of flux. When you work at APG, you are in the centre of this. You will have the opportunity to participate actively and to deliver a contribution to these changes. If you are interested, this is the opportunity to develop yourself further. APG offers every possibility for advancement to an exciting job with your own responsibility.

Room for ideas

The company culture at APG is open and cooperative; team spirit is an important factor at APG. APG stimulates its employees to come up with ideas and to implement these ideas in practice. As innovation is the means to remain in the vanguard in the rapidly changing world of pensions and pension asset management. Therefore, there is always room at APG for creative specialists with good ideas.

It is all about people

APG is a people's business. Not only for the participants for whom we administrate the pensions, but also for our own employees. You will notice this, for example, in our excellent employment conditions and in the training and career possibilities that we offer. You will be given ample room for personal growth. APG is well known for its pleasant working atmosphere and outstanding personnel policy. For instance, it is possible to work part time and working hours are flexible. And we are aware of the importance of maintaining a healthy balance between your professional and private life.

Outstanding locations

In the Netherlands, APG operates from offices in Amsterdam and Heerlen. The office of APG in Amsterdam is located in the international business centre in Amsterdam South. Working in Heerlen, means working in the South of the Netherlands, therefore in the heart of Europe. In lovely surroundings with plenty of room and with a warm and hospitable culture.

For more information visit www.werkenbijapg.nl and just imagine ...